MORGAN'S BURLEY INCOME ABOVE 1 1/2 MILLION THIS WEEK

Market Averaged
$52.37 on Monday
But Drops Again

Morgan county's income from burley tobacco went considerably past the 1 1/2 million dollar mark this week and even above the mark for the corresponding date last year.

At the close of business on Wednesday a total of 2,440 tobacco checks had cleared through the Commercial Bank here for a total of $1,619,397.56.

On the corresponding date last year 2,260 checks had cleared for a total of $1,584,487.88.

Thus, this year's income stands now at $34,000.68 above the corresponding date last year.

The daily income now, however, has dropped below last year's daily income, but this may be due to the heavy snow and freezing weather that have resulted in hazardous roads.

The 2,440 checks received thus far are believed to represent more than two-thirds of the crop. Observers still predict the county's income will go above two million dollars and may reach or exceed last year's.

The total for last year was 3,490 checks for $2,179,341.07. However, it is believed there will be more checks this year since many farmers took their crops to market in two or three batches because of the weather.

Burley averages declined to $51.17 in Kentucky last Friday, but bounced back to $52.37 on Monday. However, the price had dropped to $51.19 Tuesday and rose to $51.37 Wednesday.

Quality and a drop in bidding combined to pull the averages down, market observers said.

Many Morgan crops continued to bring above average prices last week as indicated by the following sales:

Hay V. Hill, Relief, 4300 lbs., $60.69.

400 Cattle Will Be Tested For TB In Morgan

Veterinarians of the State Department of Agriculture at Frankfort will test 400 cattle for tuberculosis this spring, County Agent Charlie Dixon announced today.

Mr. Dixon said the Extension Service was cooperating in the project. Mr. Dixon pointed out that in addition to being destructive to cattle, the disease can be contracted by humans through the milk. Cattle are tested for TB only once every three years. Farmers who would like to have their cattle tested this year are invited to notify Mr. Dixon's office and get their names on the list.

The test is simple. An injection is made at the base of the animal's tail. In about three days the point of injection is examined for swelling and redness. The animals must be put in a stall but it is not necessary to hold each animal. The animals are ear tagged for record keeping purposes.

MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE STARTS IN MORGAN COUNTY

Additional Funds Are Necessary for Vaccine
Tests By Foundation

Morgan county's annual March of Dimes campaign is now well under way and an effort is being made to raise additional funds to provide treatment for persons stricken with polio and to help finance the new polio vaccine tests to be made this winter and spring by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Because the foundation is taking on the added task of testing the new polio vaccine, local chapters have been asked to increase their goals by 50% this year. Mass inoculations will cost an estimated 26 million dollars, the foundation says.

But if the new vaccine proves effective, polio can be eradicated, doctors now predict.

In the meantime, local chapters must continue to provide treatment for stricken persons, to add more gamma globulin to the stockpiles throughout the nation and continue to assist polio treatment research.

Last year Morgan countians contributed $1,400. This year, it is hoped they will contribute more in order to assist with the new polio PREVENTION program, Carl Stewart, March of Dimes campaign director, said.

Teachers and students are carrying on the campaign for donations in the rural areas. And the annual "March of Dimes" parade will be conducted in West Liberty Friday evening, Jan. 29 from 7 to 8 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. Edna Burton, Mother's March chairman.

A number of mothers will assist in the March, and it is planned to visit every home in town the evening of Jan. 29. Church bells will be rung to start the Mothers' March.

The local chapter owes $144.02 balance on bills for treatment, braces, etc. for three children stricken in previous years, and owes an undetermined amount for treatment of a new case that developed last fall, Earl W. Kinney, chapter chairman, said.

James Frank Taubee, 74, died Saturday at his home at Malone after an extended illness.

Born in Breathitt county, he had lived in Morgan for many years and had been a member of the Caney Baptist church since 1926.

Funeral was conducted at the Caney church Monday with Rev. Bas Morris and Rev. Wardle Craft officiating and interment was in the Morris cemetery at Caney under direction of Potter Funeral Home.

Surviving are the wife, six sons, Kelly, Willie and Dannie of Cincinnati; Stella of Malone; Wilgus of Stack Fork, Jesse of London; Jerry, Ohio and Lonnie of Covington, and a daughter, Mrs. Media Litteral of Caney.

Rev. Franklin McGuire, former pastor here, will be installed as pastor of the Christian church in Hazard, Ky. Sunday, Jan. 17 at 3 p.m. A delegation of his friends in West Liberty plan to attend the installation and reception that will follow. The guests will leave from the Christian church here Sunday at 12:30 noon and all who would like to go are invited.

County 4-H Leaders Will Attend Meeting At Lexington Feb. 3

This year, for the first time, a special program at the annual Farm and Home Convention at the University in Lexington has been arranged for the voluntary 4-H leaders of the state, says County Agent Charlie Dixon.

The special 4-H program will begin at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, February 3, in the Guignol Theater of the Fine Arts Building, University of Kentucky, and will last through Wednesday afternoon. On the program will be some of the outstanding 4-H club members, parents, and leaders of the state. Features of the program will be addresses by Miss Emma Nelson, National 4-H Committee, Chicago, and Mr. David F. Cocks, Vice President of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky, and a panel discussion led by Dr. Irwin Sanders of the University of Kentucky.

Mass inoculations will cost an estimated 26 million dollars, the foundation says.

But if the new vaccine proves effective, polio can be eradicated, doctors now predict.

In the meantime, local chapters must continue to provide treatment for stricken persons, to add more gamma globulin to the stockpiles throughout the nation and continue to assist polio treatment research.

GREYHOUND CUTS 2 RUNS OFF ITS SCHEDULE HERE

No Published
Notice Of Aim
Given Citizens

Southeastern Greyhound Lines discontinued an east and west-bound run on its Lexington-Mt. Sterling-West Liberty-Paintsville-Pikeville division Tuesday, leaving only two round-trip runs on the division.

The west-bound trip leaving West Liberty for Lexington at 8 a.m. and the east-bound trip arriving in West Liberty from Lexington at 9:55 a.m. were discontinued, and a new schedule put into effect for the remaining two round-trip runs.

West-bound buses now leave West Liberty for Lexington at 10:57 a.m. and 5:08 p.m. East-bound buses arrive in West Liberty from Lexington at 12:10 noon and 7:57 p.m.

Southeastern Greyhound Lines claimed it was losing money on the run, discontinued, and permitted to continue the run was granted by the State Department of Motor Transportation after a hearing which is said to have been held sometime after Jan. 10. However, no public notice of such a hearing asking permission to discontinue the run was published, and the only protests that reached the department before the scheduled hearing were from Paintsville, the Courier was told this week.

Discontinuance of the run in this section, an area not served by any railroads, is working a hardship on many citizens. But they find it now is too late to protest since no notice of the hearing was published.

I SAW THE LAW IN ACTION DURING THE HOLIDAYS

By Bernard E. Whit

On Wednesday evening before Christmas I went to the police headquarters in West Liberty and inquired about any news. Judge John Helton said there was only one prisoner in jail. Police Chief Jeff Williams and Special Police Alderson Williams came in and sat down. It was suggested if I wanted to get news I could go with them of being around and see. Sheriff Clyde Adams came in and said he wanted to appoint me special police and to have the privilege of pinning the badge of office and warning me of the responsibility, adding that he knew of no other to whom it would give him greater pleasure. I have been connected with several things in my life but this was my first experience as a police officer in order to get news.

Soon after dark, both police and I got into their car to make a patrol of the town to see if everything was ok. On our first trip we drove up Gallows Hollow where Ruth Brothers have their equipment and station. A car with two women and children bearing Ohio license was parked there. Mr. Williams stopped and told them there had been some stealing up there and he was investigating. They said nothing. Later, on a trip up to the same place they said they were waiting for their husbands who were to come in from work, which was correct. We drove over all parts of the town and at the new Church of God services were being conducted. Several cars were parked and everything was nice and quiet.

On one trip down the street back of town there were some people in cars parked and Mr. Williams thought that it could be they were out drinking. However, he had them to move away and nothing happened.

During the first part of the night, patrol rounds were made and visits to the places of business, etc. One man was arrested for drunkenness in the lower end of town and was taken to jail Thursday night. Jailer Luther Adkins brought him out Christmas morning. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25.50. He said he had no money and was returned to jail. Saturday morning his sister came and paid the fine. Another young man was arrested at the ball game Thursday night and placed in jail. Two of his friends came to the police judge and tried to get him out. Judge Helton told them he did not believe it best to let him out while he was drunk. They made some argument about it but were made to understand that the decision had been made. They were told he could get out at 8:00 o'clock the next morning. They returned the next morning and Jailer Adkins brought him out. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25.50 which he paid from his money of $50 which the jailer gave back to him. I walked out on the street and talked to the boys and found out who they were and where they were from and can say they were of good families. The boy made the mistake of getting liquor.

Saturday morning one man was arrested and fined including cost of $25.50 for operating a car without a driver's license. Fines for this violation can be from $2 to $500. The fine was repleveled.

Saturday afternoon a car with Menfee license ran into the rear of a truck at Tredway's Store. Investigation was made by the police and settlement made between the two men. No one was injured.

I enjoyed learning first hand what goes on and what is done as I hung around most of the four or five holidays. There are many things that a lay citizen does not realize about what happens and law and order and the protection to society, which I think is worthwhile to know and to know that it is important.

I learned that our police patrol all parts of the town during the night to protect the citizens and business. That perhaps at least from two to five thousand people are in and travel through West Liberty each day. This brings about many problems for the police and the court. More than 200 cases were tried and convictions made in police court during 1953 and fines paid.

I learned that the police and sheriff were on the job and watching when trouble might start or violations occur and that their idea is to stop it or get a drunk man before something worse happens. I talked to dozens of good citizens during the time about law and order in the town and county. Sheriff Adams said it was the nicest, quietest and most orderly Christmas he has seen. In the town and county there were nine arrests by police and five arrests by the sheriff for drunkenness during the five days. No fights, no one hurt or injured in a wreck.

The people should be proud of this record and keep it or make it better the coming year. This sort of a record makes the county a fine place to live. It will make business and property better and will give joy and happiness to everyone.

A DISSERVICE TO 3 COUNTIES

Discontinuance of an east and west-bound bus on the Lexington-West Liberty-Pointsville run this week already is working hardships on citizens in this section.

The division serves three counties—Menifee, Morgan and Magoffin—that do not have railway passenger service. Thus, the discontinuance of one of three round trip runs on the division is particularly hurtful in these three counties.

Permit to discontinue the two runs was granted by the Kentucky Department of Motor Transportation after a public hearing we are told took place sometime after January 10.

However, no notices of the public hearing were published in this area and very few persons knew the bus company planned the action. When letters and petitions of protest were sent from here, the petitioners were told they were too late—the hearing already had been held and the permit granted.

This is not the democratic way to hold PUBLIC HEARINGS, and points clearly to the need to require publication of notices on all hearings called to determine policies that affect the general public.

To rectify the matter, the State Department of Motor Transportation can call a second hearing, publish notices of such a hearing and let the public be represented.

"NEW" FARM PROGRAM (Lexington Herald)

The "new" farm program, awaited with keen anxiety and interest throughout the nation, has been presented to Congress, and is nothing more than the Hope-Aiken bill which was adopted in the Republican 80th Congress and then, because of the deflationary effect which the threat of it already had exercised upon farm prices, was repealed by the 81st Congress before it ever had a chance to operate.

There is one redeeming feature about the so-called "new" farm program announced in a special message to Congress by President Eisenhower, and that is that it exempts tobacco from its provisions and sets it apart as a separate commodity. This is good and is fair because the tobacco program has worked effectively and is not causing the same problem resulting from other basic crops.

There really was no reason to expect that anything else but the resurrection of the old Hope-Aiken bill would be recommended. It will be recalled that in the 81st Congress and again in the 82nd Congress there were three proposals. One was the Brannan Plan, which was socialistic, inflationary and impractical. At the other extreme was the Hope-Aiken bill authored by Clifford Hope, of Kansas, Republican, chairman now of the Committee on Agriculture of the House of Representatives, and Sen. George Aiken, Republican, of Vermont, now chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture. Joining them is Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, of Utah, who in every utterance has urged the flexible support prices which the Hope-Aiken bill provided.

Congress in 1949 adopted the Gore-Anderson bill, which was a middle-of-the-road measure between the two. In all these sessions of Congress the majorities have been small and a large percentage of the personnel has not changed. It is not believed that the opinions of most members or of farmers generally have changed greatly either and most likely Mr. Eisenhower's proposal will be revised upward just as the Truman-Brannan proposals were revised downward.

The sporadic advertiser is like the man who took his medicine for three days and then proceeded to forget about it.

HUNTING NEWS

Kedrick Caskey, Marvin Potter and others were rabbit hunting in Bath county January 1. They returned to West Liberty about dark with thirty rabbits.

Dr. Ralph Gullett and Paul Williams were quail hunting on Stacy Fork and Wheelrim last Thursday. When challenged concerning their luck, they began taking quail from their pockets and the total count came to 23 only one short of their limit. It is believed, however, that they would take out a quail from one pocket, put it back and show it again.

A card from Blaine Nickell who is in Tampa, Fla. states that he caught 31 bass in two hours and with him were Paul Reed, Lynn Nickell and Chas. Ray Wells.

Heretofore we have always had great respect for anything that Blaine said, and full faith in him as a Sunday school teacher and church officer, but 31 bass in two hours is a different story.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

J. M. Gevedon
Answers Critic

Grassy Creek, Ky.
December 26, 1953
To whom this doth concern:
"Aint you ashamed of what you said about old Morgan. I see you were rased nasty but most of us wusnt."

The above is a copy of a nice little card letter I received a few days ago, not dated, not signed and not plainly post marked.

The Staff of our paper are all aware that I hold myself subject to criticism at all times, and will gladly publish any comments on my writing, so why did you hide and shoot me in the back? You didn't get half the kick out of it by not letting the public read your opinions.

Most of my stories of the old times go back to the decade between 1873 to 1883, so, my friend, if you can remember back that far, you are getting too old to fight with your old friend.

I have never resorted to untrue tales for the public to swallow, since there is more of truth than I can ever hope to tell this present generation. There are very few people in Morgan county who can remember conditions as they were in my early life, still I know of a few that would testify to the truth of my article.

In that writup, I tried, in my blunt way, to show the great improvements that had been made in Old Morgan, since the days of the Old Country Doctor, and in that very issue, our good friend, Judge O'Rear, came in with his comments, some of which were along the same line, yet I was a great big boy when the Honorable Judge came to Morgan county; still he came in time to see much of what I related.

Thank you,
J. M. GEVEDON

The Courier—

The Seers and Sages already are weighing a vanishing year, as 1953 becomes just another cobblestone on the long road of time. What kind of a year has it been? How will it be remembered?

The historians will say it was a year of upheaval. The economists will say the nation's pocketbooks stood the strain, but will say business can take a turn for the worse or on the other hand, for the better. "Just be careful," Democrats will view with alarm what wasn't accomplished in 1953; Republicans will point with pride and say, "Boy, did we make a hit!"

None will make sense to the average man. He will remember 1953, not for the world-shaking events, but something that happened to him trivial or important. We look at a single year through the perspective of our own lives, the impact it made in some way upon us individually, not in the final place it will have in the long story of the human race.

Who will remember a decade from now that Russia announced it had the hydrogen bomb and Josef Stalin passed into a beyond in which he held no belief? Who will remember 1953 as a whole year anyway? You can't remember 365 days. You remember fragments of time on great moments of emotion—a day you made a decision that changed your whole life.

To the college student, 1953 may be nothing all of his life but the tear streaked face of a girl crying in the moonlight because she wouldn't marry him.

No matter what scholars write about 1953 it won't be what is engraved in the average man's memories. No scholar can know what is written in the calendar of the human heart, for each heart has its private pages, and no life is really an open book.

But to me no memories stand out more vividly than the days I spent in West Liberty. The long and happy hours I spent on the Cole and Cochran building, preparing the stones for the builders use. I do not remember the date of this building, but it is carved on a stone just over the door and speaks for itself.

I remember the good times I had with such fine men as the late Floyd Arnett, Judge Sebastian, Jack Cole, Uncle Frank Steele and Elbert Sparks.

I remember the pleasant hours I spent with Amos Day and Fannie when I stayed there, and the nice meals Fannie would prepare.

No wonder Job said, "Our days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle."

I long to come back to West Liberty and see each of my old friends. And I hope each of you have a happy year.

200,000 in federal grants for roads and $117,990,054 in trust, agency and revolving funds, consisting primarily of federal aid.

Wetherby described his program as "my own evaluation of the desires of the people for state services—weighed against their willingness and ability to pay for them."

Here is How It Will Work
He then gave this breakdown of the money expected from his tax plans:

1—$2,700,000 from the three-cent-a-package cigarette tax.
2—$1,100,000 by jumping the beer tax from $1.50 to $2.50 a barrel.

3—$200,000 by doubling the 25 cents-a-gallon wine tax.
4—$800,000 by creating a uniform system of taxing pari-mutuel betting.

Wetherby, in summing up his recommendations, proposed that the fund which finances general operations total $84,600,000 for the year beginning July 1 and $84,000,000 for the following year.

In addition, he said the seven million dollar "windfall" from the withholding tax program should be spent on capital outlay—buildings and additions—next year. That would make a total outlay of $91,600,000.

The Governor expressed confidence the general fund spending "can be balanced by anticipated revenues from the existing tax system, together with enactment of new measures which I propose."

committee was appointed: Mrs. Fred Penniston, Mrs. Robert L. Meyers, Mrs. Henry Stacy, Mrs. Earl Kinney, Mrs. Kenneth Fairchild and Bernard E. Whitt.

Preceding Mr. Whitt's talk, a devotional program was presented by Mrs. Fred Penniston on the theme "Religious Heritage."

Mrs. Woodrow Barber, chairman of the Fine Arts Department, who sponsored the program, introduced the speaker as one of Morgan county's best loved and most sought after speakers.

In his talk, Mr. Whitt stressed the influence television was having on the heritage we were leaving, and said he was becoming afraid of our heritage for future generations. "What is America?" he asked his audience. "Is it the rich and poor, the fathers, mothers and children, automobiles, planes, schools, churches and homes?" Then he explained that to him all these things meant America. He brought into his talk an account of his travels with law officers during the recent holidays, and told of his fear that the "American way of life" was being destroyed. "If all homes could have a fireside," he said, "and families and neighbors gathering around that fireside as they did years ago, I think we would set ideals that would be a rich heritage to preserve."

At the conclusion of the program the hostesses served a salad course with wafers, tea and coffee.

And only Ford in its field offers Power Lift Windows both front and rear, that open or close at a button's touch... and a 4-Way Power Seat that adjusts up and down, as well as front and back, at a touch of the controls. # DOES DISTRIBUTION COST TOO MUCH?

IT'S LONG DERATED

Our One-Stop Market Has Solved This Problem For You

The "costs of distribution" are too high, it has been discussed for many generations by economists, manufacturers, retailers, wholesalers, advertising men, politicians, reformers and plain old consumers.

Distribution does take a large share of your dollar through old, antiquated, obsolete methods of distribution. The average product through the obsolete method costs manufacturers $1, in turn costs the ultimate consumer $2. Of each $1 a consumer pays for food, the farmer gets around 49 cents. Sometimes the farmer gets even less. Nevertheless, the cost of distribution has been absolutely too large and seems unnecessary to many persons. We don't know how you feel about it, but anyway we would like to know: "Maybe we should come out and see you. Chances are if we did that, however, you couldn't believe the great values that our one-stop market has for you. And I don't blame you a bit. But, as you know, "eating is the proof of the pudding."
